PRICE FIVE CENTS

TENNESSEE SOLONS FILIBUSTERING, TO REMAIN IN DECATUR

"We Want to Give People of Tennessee an Opportunity to Express Their Sentiment on Suffrage," Representative Hall, Leader of the Party, Declares.

Twenty-five filibustering members of the Tennessee house of representatives, who will be joined this afternoon by several additional members, lounged about the lobby of the Lyons Hotel here today and effectively blocked final ratification by the Tennessee legislature of the Susan B. Anthony amendment enfranchising 27,000,000 women voters in the United States. The Tennessee solons arrived here at daybreak this morning from Nashville.

According to members of the filibustering party here, several legislators have gone to other points, unknown to them, and will remain away from Nashville "until the state has been given an opportunity to voice an opinion on suffrage."

Second Filibuster

The arrival of the party of Tennessee today was the second filibustering trip here. Five years ago members of the Tennessee legislature came to Decatur in an effort to prevent the passage of the election bill and state-wide prohibition measure. J. P. Sipes, who was a member of the original party, was the only member of the initial contingent with the second party of filibusters. Mr. Sipes, however, left here at noon for Memphis to visit his son, who was injured recently in an automobile accident. Mr. Sipes has a leave of absence from Speaker Walker.

SUFFRAGE "HEROES"

(International News Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 21.—Two suffrage men were on hand despite severe illness in their families. P. W. Dodson, Republican, of Kingsport, has a baby at home which his wife telephoned him could not live. He would not leave until today and is standing by his 48 fellow suffrage heroes to block schemes of the antis.

Representative C. W. Brooks, whose wife is at the point of death at Atwood, came this morning by special train from her bedside. He came to block any reconsideration. Thirty seven antis have gone to Alabama to break a quorum, according to Senator Lon McFarland, anti leader. They left last night for a point outside the jurisdiction of the state so they cannot be arrested. In 1909, 1911 and 1913 minorities left the state to break a quorum. In one case they stayed out for nine months.

BRANDEE DIRECTS

(International News Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 21.—Senator Brandee, of Connecticut, Republican, is understood to be in Nashville directing the battle against ratification.

MOTION CARRIED

(International News Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 21.—A motion by T. K. Riddick to vote to reconsider the ratification of the 19th amendment was carried by a vote of 50 to 0, but Speaker Walker ruled this out as no quorum was present. At 12:20 p. m. Riddick moved that the house adjourn to Monday at 3 p. m. This was carried by an overwhelming vote.

INJUNCTION GRANTED

(International News Service)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 21.—Chancellor James B. Newman this morning issued a temporary injunction restraining Speaker Todd, of the senate, and Speaker Walker, of the house, from signing resolutions of ratification of the 19th amendment; Governor Roberts from signing the resolution; Secretary of the House Stevens and Governor Roberts from forwarding it to Secretary of State Colby as passed. The injunction was served this morning.

PICK AND SHOVEL GANG MAY WORK ROAD IN MORGAN AS 'VOLUNTEERS'

Number of Highways Need of Immediate Repair, Committee Reports.

MANY NEW INDUSTRIES ARE SEEKING LOCATION

Educational Committee Will Act as Agent for Board of Education.

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the Albany Chamber of Commerce held yesterday at noon and educational committee was appointed. This committee was appointed only after taking into consideration that in building a city education is the first important factor to be developed. It must be understood that it will not be the purpose of this committee to interfere with the work of the Board of Education in the slightest degree, but on the other hand to assist them in developing the education in Albany so that it will be up to the highest standard possible. It is the purpose to have this committee to act as an agent between the Board of Education and the people so that greater results can be accomplished.

PUSH GOOD ROADS

Two weeks ago the Chamber of Commerce appointed a permanent good roads committee. This committee has been very active and it is expected that great results are going to be accomplished in the way of building good roads throughout Morgan County.

At the meeting yesterday this committee reported that many sections was in need of immediate repairs and that it was absolutely necessary to have temporary repairs made on some sections. Just how these repairs are to be made was not determined, but if it can't be done any other way the Chamber of Commerce will organize a "pick and shovel gang" and go out and put impassable sections in temporary repair until it can be reached by the county. The petition recently presented to the Board of Revenue by the Chamber of Commerce signed by over 2500 voters of the county calls for a sufficient amount to put all roads, outside of state and federal aid projects, in good condition. The bond election which the petition calls for will possibly be called the 2nd, Monday in September, but in the meantime it is absolutely necessary that some temporary repairs be made.

Many New Industries

Another problem which is confronting the Chamber of Commerce is taking care of many new industries now seeking a location in Albany. The Secretary-Manager reported that during the past week more than six industries have requested information as to the possibility of locating in Albany. Four of these are very large manufacturing plants and hopes for getting them are very bright.

BIRMINGHAM WET ONCE MORE WHEN CLOUD-BURST HITS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 21.—The consistent rains are playing havoc with the cotton crop of Alabama, according to a statement made this morning by Crop Statistician Gist. He says cotton had been damaged heavily this month through the multiplying of the boll weevil aided by the rains. The rainfall also is causing cotton to deteriorate in other ways and the rainfall this month has been expensive to the farmers of the state.

The L. & N. passenger depot was also in the wake of the cloudburst and the passengers had to be removed from the station on the baggage trucks. The rain came up so suddenly that the officials were unable to rush help to the scene but within an hour and a half after the deluge the streets were cleared and traffic resumed.

The wooden blocks used for the streets became swollen and buckled out of place and floated into the sewers blocking the water.

The automobiles and street cars had to be hauled out to keep from being washed away and all traffic was stopped.

MEXICO READY TO LIVE UP TO LETTER OF OBLIGATIONS, IS WORD TO AMERICA

Envoy Reaches Washington to Affect Continued Relations With United States.

DENIES ULTIMATUM WAS GIVEN BY SEC. COLBY

Exclusive Interview Granted the I. N. S. by Senor Iglesias Calderon.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Declaring Mexico stands ready and willing to live up to the letter of her international obligations, Senor Iglesias Calderon, Mexican diplomatic representative here, has come back to Washington to press, not for official recognition of his government but merely for "continued relations."

"Diplomatically", he declared in an exclusive interview with an International News Service correspondent, "our situation in Mexico is that of the United States following the assassination of President McKinley. The vice president became president and there was no cause or necessity for the United States to be recognized again by foreign powers. So it was with Mexico. Carranza was assassinated, Congress met and named a successor as the constitution provides. The United States already has recognized the Carranza government.

"I wish to say here," he went on, "that the report I wired Mexico City that Secretary of State Colby had laid down to me three principles, which if agreed to by Mexico, would bring about recognition of Mexico, is utterly untrue. Secretary Colby made no such stipulations and I sent no such telegrams."

Organized Labor Would Bring Pressure to Prevent Further Support of Poland, France and Britain Tell Warsaw—"On to Moscow" Cries in Poland Must Not be Repeated.

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The fortress of Brest-Litovsk is still in the hands of the Russian Soviet troops, a British war office statement on the Russo-Polish situation shows. The statement says that the Polish main column is ten miles west of Brest-Litovsk. This disposed of yesterday's unofficial report that the fortress had been wrested from the Bolsheviks.

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—General Budenny, commander of the Bolshevik forces on the Galicia front has launched a violent attack at Lemberg.

(International News Service)

PARIS, Aug. 21.—France and England have conveyed a strong warning to Poland not to attempt further invasion of Russia, after clearing their own frontiers of the Bolshevik forces, it was learned from a trust-worthy source today. The moment that the Poles turn their present counter-offensive into a new invasion of Russia, the allies will withdraw their support. This has been made clear to the Warsaw government by both Paris and London.

In diplomatic circles here, it is felt that the Poles, mindful of their bitter experience after their "first march on Moscow," which brought them so near disaster, will heed the allied warning this time.

It was pointed out that should the Poles repeat their march on Kief or should the cries "On to Moscow" once more resound through Poland, organized labor in both France and Britain would be quick to bring the heaviest pressure on the Paris and London governments and charge them with supporting a militaristic adventure. Furthermore, it was pointed out, a new Polish invasion of Russia, would defeat the possibilities of peace in the east.

22 MILES FROM WARSAW

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Russian forces are still 22 miles northwest of Warsaw, today's Soviet war office communiqué, stated. "Fighting continues fiercely in the region of Plonsk, 22 miles northwest of the Polish capital," says the statement.

SOVIET PROCLAIMED

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—Dusseldorf, the important German industrial city on the Rhine is the scene of a violent communist outbreak, according to dispatches received here today. A mob of 200 communists seized the town hall at Velbert, an important manufacturing town in the Dusseldorf district, and proclaimed a Soviet.

REDS PREPARE FOR STAND

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 21.—The Russians are throwing large reinforcements into the sector north of Czechanov, 45 miles northwest of Warsaw and their lines on that front are stiffening, said a dispatch from Berlin today. The Bolshevik forces also are preparing for a stand west of Soldau, the dispatch adds. The Poles, on the other hand, are reported to have crossed the river Bug at two places, Wyckow and Brodzin.

THE BLOODY FIGHT BEFORE WARSAW TRACEABLE TO AMERICAN NEGLECT

While American Senators cannot be said to be directly responsible, can they escape the charge that their neglect has made possible the present desperate fighting before Warsaw and along a battle front 400 miles?

Does any considerable number of people believe that there would have been a Polish-Russo crisis such as the present one, if this country's representatives had been sitting in the councils of the League of Nations? While it is true that the league been in full operation, without unanimous vote of all the countries in it, no armed force could have been used to prevent the present war, it seems equally true that the moral force of a strong league would have made the present bloodshed impossible.

Lloyd George spoke but the truth when he said that lack of unanimity of opinion kept the league from functioning in the Polish crisis. But had America been a part of the league there would have been sentiment enough against Poland's aggressive policy to have prevented her putting it into practical also, there would have been a firmness enough in the councils of the world to have prevented the Bolsheviks from invading Poland. Poland was guilty of violating article X of the league, but would she have done so had such nations as America, and England, who were primarily responsible for the freedom of Poland, protested such action as members of a world peace league?

As matters stood, the Poles tried to rely on themselves and went about building up a larger territory against the Bolsheviks, by invading Russia. Had Poland been able to get the right aid and sympathy in the establishment of her new nation, she would not have felt the need of wider physical boundaries.

And on the other hand, the strength shown by the Bolsheviks, and their present invasion of Poland, would both have been impossible had the nations gone about the building of a new world after the great war in the way the league covenant proposed.

Instead of the peaceful means provided by President Wilson's league, in their zeal to help Russia and defeat Bolshevism, responsible nations like France, began to back certain leaders like, Admiral Kolchak, and General Denin, and last of all General Wrangel. This policy strengthened, instead of weakened the Bolsheviks.

Lenine and Trotsky could now point to the action of the Allied representatives, as interference from strangers, with Russia's internal affairs, and so annex millions to their group as being the only one that is upholding Russian freedom.

Thus it comes about that two great armies are now arrayed against each other, because United States Senators refused to proceed in an intelligent and courageous manner, regarding the only definite plan ever presented to the world for the prevention of wars.

CAN'T GET AROUND
"Why the street workers can't get a little pep into their work and get a hustle on, I don't see," said Fire Chief Sorber this morning, "they are trying to do all their work at once and are not getting through with any of the streets before starting some where else."

The streets in Albany are now in such a fix that I can hardly reach a fire if it occurs in certain sections. All of Sixth, Eighth and First Avenue, West are so torn up that no one can get around. What's the use in tearing up all the work together? Why don't they take one at a time and do the job well?"

OUGHT TO HELP
"The Kiwanis club should certainly back the High football team this year," said a well known business man at a meeting of the club this week, "the boys are making a name for the cities and they should have our support."

The team will go before the Kiwanis next Thursday night at the regular session to ask the support of the well known organization.

Priests Not Always Celibates.

From the very beginning of the Catholic church it was the custom for those entering the priesthood to renounce marriage. It was not obligatory, and the rule requiring men, who were already married at the time of ordination, to separate from their wives, was not made until the end of the fourth century, when Pope Siricus forbade the clergy to marry, and ordered the separation from their wives of priests already married. This accounts for the fact that St. Peter, the first head of the Catholic church, was a married man.

Jamestown, Tenn.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years; in fact it is the only liver medicine that does me any good," says Mr. L. A. Ragan, a well-known lumberman of this place. "When I was single, I used it for headaches, and especially if I get a cold and feel feverish, I take a good dose of Black-Draught, and it sets me right."

Since I have been married, I have used it in my family, and never have found its equal for torpid liver or disarranged stomach, especially with children. I can recommend Black-Draught, and gladly do so."

Every member of the family occasionally needs the assistance that Black-Draught can give, in helping to cleanse the system and relieve or prevent the troubles that come from a lazy, torpid liver.

If your liver is not doing its duty, you may suffer with headache, constipation, biliousness, indigestion, etc. Unless relief is obtained, serious sickness may result. In its long and successful use, Thedford's Black-Draught has been found in thousands of cases to relieve such disorders, by stimulating the liver to do its important work.

TURNING AWAY FROM MEAT

In New York Big Hotels Meals Entirely of Vegetables Are Increasing in Popularity.

According to the New York Times the diners of the American metropolis are becoming vegetarians. Approximately one-seventh to one-fifth of the guests at the hotels here today are ordering vegetables for their meals instead of meats. All of the big hotels keep a very careful record of the sales of the different items on the menus for each day, and a recapitulation made recently at the Hotel Pennsylvania revealed that a surprising percentage of patrons omitted meat items entirely in their lunch and dinner orders. While the percentage for lunch was much higher than that for dinner, the number of dinner guests who refrained from meat entirely was also very large.

In the opinion of Chef Julien Jacquier of the Pennsylvania this is the result of years of emphasis on the value of vegetarianism. The vegetarian, a few years ago, was very generally the butt of the comic papers; but with the war a great deal more came to be thought of him by people who found that a thoroughly satisfactory meal could be made from vegetables and at much less cost. Chef Jacquier believes that this is responsible for the many calls given nowadays in the big hotels for vegetable luncheons and dinners, which have a special place on the menus.

TELL OF BABYLONIAN LIFE

Interesting Revelations in Clay Tablets That Were "Written" On Some Forty Centuries Ago.

The University of South Dakota at Vermillion has come into possession of 61 genuine Babylonian tablets, discovered by Arabs in the ruins of buried cities and collected at Bagdad. They have been deciphered by Dr. Edgar J. Banks of Alpine, N. J., an authority on these clay and brick records of 4,000 years ago, and their authenticity proved. Fully half of the tablets in this collection are perfect and all of them are legible. They are only a few inches in size and were written on when they were soft clay, later being dried, or baked. Most of them are of about the date 2350 B. C., a few going as far back as 2800 B. C., and others dating from the time of the fall of Babylon before the Persians, in 538 B. C. The most valuable tablet of the collection is a letter. Holes were made through it so that it might be attached to a cord and carried in this way. Next in point of value and interest are a number of neo-Babylonian tablets of sundry clay containing business contracts of all sorts and giving pictures of the life of the people after the Persian conquest. Of special interest is a small tablet of exercises in writing, done by some boy in the school over 40 centuries ago.

Elephant Herd on This Lady's Hands

And now, ladies and gentlemen, allow us to introduce "the woman with a farm on her fingers" and a herd of elephants on her hands. That is, if you care to speak of her in the language of the ballyhoo stand. But with Madge Evans the matter is a serious one. Madge Evans, let it be understood is the lady elephant trainer with the Sparks which is to exhibit in Albany on Friday, Aug. 27.

Miss Evans plays with elephants as tho they were kittens and while she plays, your beating heart tells you that there is danger for her every moment. And while she does all this, she will be carrying her farm on her fingers. But while that sounds as tho it may be an exhibit, it isn't. The truth of the matter is that Madge has serious ambitions for the future. She wants to go back to the farm and train cabbages and onions, and milk the lowing kine and all that sort of thing. And the means of doing it lies in the diamonds she wears.

There are many of them, and some day Madge plans to take them to "Uncle", sell them, and with the proceeds buy a little farm somewhere and live out her life, far from the blare of the "big top" band, far from the glare of the chandeliers.

"And why shouldn't I?" she asks. "Diamonds are only good to look at. I never realized that until after I had skimped and saved for years to buy them. Now, however, I know what I really want in life—and I'm going to make these diamonds give it to me. But not this season—next maybe, or the one after. I want to get all the lure of the sawdust out of my system first."

And while Madge plans for her farm, she'll keep right on training her pets. And of course, she'll form a part of the things that can be seen when the big circus comes here.

One Dozen Giraffes in America.
There are but 12 giraffes in this country—eight with circuses and four others in the zoos of New York and Philadelphia. Four of the 12 were raised by a Belgian named Andrew, in the employ of a circus, who used to be a hunter in Africa. He has made pets of them all, and Mary, who is almost nineteen feet high, responds instantly to his call and is delighted to eat sugar from his hand.

Public Benefactor Dead.

The Inventor of the ice-cream soda—Robert McCay Green—recently died in Philadelphia. While exhibiting at the Franklin Institute exposition in Philadelphia two years before the centennial, Mr. Green, to get ahead of a competitor, conceived the idea of mixing the ice cream with the soda, and before the close of the exposition his receipts were more than $200 a day.

GINNELL, LEADER OF IRISH, HERE TO 'RECUPERATE'

(By Thomas Wrigley, International News Service Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Lawrence Ginnell, from 1906 to 1907, a prominent Irish member of the British House of Commons and at present a member of the Irish National Assembly, bears the distinction, if such it can be called, of having been imprisoned more times than any other leader in the cause of Irish freedom. The veteran Irish statesman, in fact, has suffered a break in health as the result of prison, confinement and he is now in this country to recuperate.

His stormy career in the House of Commons and in Ireland stamps him as one of the most fearless and outspoken of the Sinn Fein leaders.

Elected from Westmeath in 1906, he immediately started a dive in the House of Commons in an attempt to force the British Government to divide the large estates among landless people.

For this he was arrested in 1907 and given six months in prison, but as soon as released he again became active in the Irish cause, and a succession of arrests and imprisonments since that time have finally broken him in health. Mr. Ginnell was last arrested during March of this year, according to his story. He was very ill then, but at 2 o'clock in the morning there came a knock on his door with the command "open in the name of the law." His wife, he said, opened the door, and to her surprise saw the house entirely surrounded by soldiers. Ginnell was taken to prison, but in two days he was released because the physicians in charge certified that his health would not permit further confinement.

Ginnell, as soon as he recovers his health, will assist President De Valera, of the Irish Republic, in his campaign to secure American recognition. He says he will give addresses in a number of principal cities. He is a historian and writer on agrarian subjects. He wrote the Irish Republic plank for the Peace Treaty of Versailles.

South Shows Up As Leading Section

Whether it is the opportunity offered to soldiers to learn a trade, acquire an education, or merely love of an active life, recruiting officers do not say, but all are looking with wonderment at the way the south is leading the nation in sending men to the Regular Army.

"Any theories which the general public may have held that the northern and western states have anything on the southern states in sending men to the army are completely wiped out, as shown by the figures issued by the War Department," said Colonel Geo. C. Saffrans, in charge of army recruiting in Alabama.

"Nine of the first eleven recruiting districts in the list of fifty-six are in the south, namely, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Jackson, Little Rock, Nashville, Birmingham, New Orleans, Richmond and Knoxville.

New York with 1,190 enlistments, secured 96.7 per cent of its quota of 1,230, ranking 24th while Chicago finished twelfth.

Fourteen of the twenty-seven leading districts are in the southern states.

The Atlanta recruiting district won first place in the army mid-summer recruiting handicap; Jacksonville, Florida finished second. There are fifty-six recruiting districts in the United States, each district being assigned a quota based on its population. The winner, Atlanta, enlisted 213 per cent of its quota. The Alabama district finished seventh with 126 per cent.

The entire recruiting service enlisted 15,821 men for the Army during the month of July, the period of the drive, the best record ever made in normal times.

The goal of the recruiting service for August is 18,000, and upon reports it appears that the figure will be reached. The Alabama district has almost reached its July figure, 244 enlistments, with twelve more days to go.

CREED FOR EVERY AMERICAN

Undeniable "Good Thing" to Which All Citizens Should Subscribe and Pass Along.

Nearly every reader is familiar with the expression, "It's a good thing, pass it along." The other day attention was attracted by a "good thing" which is here passed along. It is a "financial creed" for every man, woman and child suggested by the savings directors of the 12 federal reserve districts. Read it carefully. It is as follows:

I believe in the United States of America.

My opportunity and hope depend upon her future.

I believe that her stability and progress rest upon the industry and thrift of her people.

Therefore, I will work hard and live simply.

I will spend less than I earn.

I will use my earnings with care.

I will save consistently.

I will invest thoughtfully.

To increase the financial strength of my country and myself, I will buy government securities.

I will hold above barter the obligations my country thus incurs.

I will do these things to insure the greatness of America's future.

Fish Nets, the First Lace.

Examine a piece of fine and costly lace. What is it fundamentally?

It is a net. By origin it is a fish net. The first lacemaker was a fisherman, or perhaps his wife.

All of the beautiful laces we know today are developed from that clever invention, the fish net. They hark back, therefore, far into the prehistoric.

The first white men who came to America found no lacemakers on this continent, but they did find the Indians weaving fabrics of cotton, yucca and other fabrics, with elaborate pattern designs. They were particularly skillful at a certain sort of "drawn-work."

The California Indians of today make cotton lace, but the art has been taught to them, by white people. The pottery they make for sale is sometimes adorned with this lace.

Which suggests mention of the fact that the early Indians often decorated their pottery with textile patterns by impressing the latter upon the clay while soft.

Women Demand Grit.

If you have the grit you can command respect. The world doesn't want any fawning apologies. That may serve a purpose under some "weak sister" circumstances, but never under the greatest need. Some folks wonder why it is that "all the world loves a lover." The fact is a lover must have grit. Women want their heroes to be leaders, daring, irresistible. They want men who do things. They even like to be made do a few things they protest but enjoy just the same. Weaklings do not dare such audacity. They fear they will lose the maiden's smile. As a matter of fact it's the daring and the assurance that wins. "Faint heart never won fair lady" we are told. Even in lovemaking you must have grit. And what's more the fellow that does not have grit doesn't deserve to win. Why should a woman waste herself on a snolly-coddler? Be a man if you would win—Grit.

HITS AND MISSES

By BARRETT SHELTON

OLD DAY REVIVED

A LA GOVER

Way back in the files of the Daily, several decades past the headlines burst forth one afternoon with the black face caps of "Mitwede pulls three bones." All these lines were the deadly work of one Curtis Gover, who was at that time, keeper of the bull. Well this sort of publicity made Mr. Mitwede mighty mad and the lower regions were in the throes of winter compared to the bench, the next afternoon.

We wonder how "Dutch" feels now. He gets practically the same headliner that Gover handed him in the days the Y. M. C. A. did the big work on the surrounding cities. In the Rome Tribune this morning the heat reads: "Mitwede pulls bone and Linde loses." We suppose this Albany-Decatur, Hartselle product is still boiling over with too much steam.

"Dutch" was always good when he was right but Oh! Boy when he had a slump.

OBITUARIES

At last we get the fatal word that we have been expecting all summer and it will come as a terrible blow to the sport fans of the Twin City dugouts. We got the tip that Marvin Rankin was getting ready to retire from the firing line. No other greater calamity could befall the followers of the horseshoe than this and it is with much deep feeling that we are forced to report the sad ending. However the local fans will not be entirely disappointed for Marvin will continue his great work in the outer gardens. His abilis is, "Because I'm tired of losing all the time, I have been in two contests this year that I have been lucky enough to be returned victor. We Indians busted Huntsville and I played with Decatur and through my own individual effort, clouted for a trio with the pillows loaded."

IS CHICAGO LUCKY

WELL SAY SHE IS

In all the years that the windy city has been through the fire they have not had a team to finish last in the row. Each time they have had a prominent place in the fight and at all times they have kept the Chicago fans in a high state of excitement.

This season, the White Sox hold the center of the state in the heart of the Chicago fans and from all indication it looks as if they are going to give someone a tough job to cop the rag before the curtain falls.

The Cubs haven't showed up so well this trip but have been a hard team to beat all the way and they are not yet through. It looks as if the Reds will take the banner before the Cubs come out of the slump but they think they will get one in the next year or so, they are not troubled.

Both the teams are hard battling organizations and can't be stopped without the best in the other team if the White Sox get the gafonalon it is a sure thing that they are going to do better this year in the big series than they did with the Reds last year.

OLD TIME STAR

ENTERS THE HALI

Connie Mack pulled another bone when he turned "Big Chief" Bender out of the White Elephant stamping grounds. Mack was confident that the Indian was through. Bender didn't and thereby hangs the tale.

Bender, after quitting the Athletics for a year, started in the Virginia league. He didn't show up so well during his first tryout for his initial bow in the semipro circles was too much for him. The second year the chief was manager of his club and was responsible for half his team's victories.

Bender pitched some four contests out of the week and it was found that at one time he had a total of twenty-three games to his credit and they were all his own individual efforts. Bender is now with the New Haven outfit and yesterday saw the aborigine come back to his former self. The famous sharpshooter hurled to only twenty-seven men and one got aboard, only to be snuffed out on the way to the keystone. The fray was a no-hit, no-run affair and the chief has entered the hall of fame that baseball hirelings of the hurling staffs work so hard for.

Salvadorean Celebrations

The people of Salvador celebrate March 15 as a holiday in honor of General Morazan, who was elected president in 1830 of the Central American federation. In 1832 he suppressed an insurrection against the federal government in Salvador. In 1838 a revolution in Guatemala and in 1842 in Costa Rica. The people of Salvador also celebrate March 1 as a holiday.

CUTTING THIRD SET OF TEETH

Memphis (Tenn.) Man, at 84, is Also Renewing His Youth and Vigor in Other Ways.

The adage that there is nothing new under the sun has been disproved by N. D. Starr, who has cut a third set of teeth at the age of eighty-four, when usually the only new molars, bicuspids, etc., that can be achieved are those purchased from a dentist, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Mr. Starr, who is in the employ of the Memphis Artisan Water company, recently found himself in need of a set of these artificial substitutes for the teeth provided by nature. But when he visited his dentist the price was too high and he decided to go toothless. However, through one of the unaccountable happenings which sometimes upsets all rules, Mr. Starr discovered that he was cutting 12 new teeth. They are almost through now, although they are not very useful yet, owing to the fact that his gums are sore in a fashion familiar to all mothers of teething infants or to boys and girls whose second teeth are replacing their baby teeth, and even the older boys and girls who proudly announce: "I'm cutting a wisdom tooth."

Dentists doubtless will contend that such a thing cannot happen. But Mr. Starr knows that he now has teeth where no teeth were before. Moreover, he says his eyesight is better than it was several years ago, and that so far from his vigor being impaired by advancing years he feels stronger and more youthful than he did when he was seventy.

"EXCUSE MY DUST" —PRINCESS TODAY

If you can feel—The dare of the open road to the straining motor-devil under your hood—The tug of a little lad, your son,—ill, and his mother's call, "Hurry!"—The sting of "Coward," flung by a foe—The wild, fierce joy of the race, mile on mile, through the night, while Death reaches a hundred hands from the dark—The horror of trickery, wreck, and the thrill of good hard fists on the face of a cad—if you can join the yelling crowds when a record's smashed—See Wallace Reid in "Excuse My Dust."

With Theodore Roberts—Ann Little—Tully Marshall.

Farmer Invests 72 Pounds of Silver, Savings of Many Years, in Motor Car

The importance which farmers attach to the light commercial car as a means of providing quick haulage was brought forcibly to the attention of a California dealer a short time ago.

Norman E. Briggs, salesman for the Miller Automobile Co., of Sacramento, called at the home of an Italian farmer and notified him that his new Dodge Brothers Screen Side business car was ready for him. He was asked to wait a minute while the farmer got the money.

Briggs waited exactly an hour and a half, and then was summoned to the back yard. There, in the privacy of his arbor and under the careful surveillance of his good wife and the family watch dog, the farmer had laid out the price of the car on two tables—all in silver. The coins were all quarters, halves and dollars, piled $10 in a stack.

When the salesman undertook to check up he quickly understood why he had been left sitting on the front door-step so long. It took him another hour and a half to make sure that he hadn't been overpaid.

The price the farmer paid for his car was 72 pounds of silver.

A pile of rusty tomato cans told the story of years of saving, probably one or two coins at a time. But the smile and words of appreciation that accompanied delivery of the car left no doubt that the farmer and his wife felt sure they were making a wise investment.

A subsequent call by the salesman found the farmer even more delighted than before. He was using the car to carry his produce to Sacramento in about one-tenth the time formerly consumed, and had already found that he no longer needed an extra man to help him on the farm.
